A Unique Display.

In the windows of the Boston Store there is a unique display showing how modern telephone service is handled in a large store. A pole line has been erected in the windows which conerected in the windows which conducts live wires to a duplicate of the local switchboard used by the store, this switchboard being located in one of the windows. This is in constant operation, and during the continuation of the Live Wire sale now being conducted by the Boston Store, all telephone Jusiness of the concern will be carried on through this switchboard and line. It is an interesting illustration of how seignes has simplified the conduct of business and brings the remotest sections into constant and inmotest sections into constant and in-stant contact with the business cen-

The Animated Weekly at the Auditorium Today.

The famous reel of current events will be shown here today and tomorrow, and will contain glimpses of the following subjects: The G. A. R. parade, which took place in New York city less than three weeks ago: German war fleet sailing from Germany for the United States; Cardinal Farley deficiency a charge in Yonkers. ley dedicating a church in Yonkers, and several other equally interesting subjects.

In the vaudeville line, Fosto and Fuzzy, the sterling equilibrist, and his dog, are making quite a hit; while Walton and Lester, the English burlesque comedians, are making lots of fun with their bright comedy.

BREED THEATER.

A picture that stands out from all others on the Breed's programme to-day is the one entitled The Wooden Bowl, and features Mr. Arthur Johnson, the Lubin leading man, who plays in this novel film play, the part of the agod father in a family lately ar-rived from Holland. This is an atmosphers selion attempted in motion pictures, accause of its many exacting requirements, but it is perfectly pre-sented, carrying all the correct appointments, and a splendid story with other feature and is filled with all the important events of international interest, while the parameter of the bill includes a powerful dramatic story and a delightful story for the children, entitled "Little Boy Flue." Miss Marshall continues to thrill her audiences with her dashing rendition of ences with her dashing rendition of the Overture to William Tell, which brings out every place of her spien-

I never had an inkling of the presence on the earth Of the fennec and the horele clustre; I knew maught of the ratel or the dig-nified unbrotte. Nor of the garial so mobirusiva. I had no kies that the capybers roamed the wild. Nor that the thyladine was force and war; and wasy; ne'er suspected that the clemmy ketition had horns. Until I saw it in the delicinary.

I knew naught of the hamster or the sibet or the dhoie;
The caracara was a total stranger, I did not dream the syphistories carried enidoblasts.
Which to their prey and easenies meant danger.
Twixt eisteddfod and syzygy no difference I knew;
Sesquipedalianism made me chary, Quite unaware was I that knots but wings and feathers, too,
Until I saw it in the diotorary,

"So you refuse to buy my car, so you?" said Whibley. "I certainly do, Whib," said Hinkley. "When I want a car like yours I'll go to the five and ten cent store and get a new one."— Harper's Weekly, Uncle Erra—Then you think the Battle of Wounded Knee was a greater event than the Reformation? Uncle Eben—Certainly! I've seen them both and I'll bet the 'battle' took at least a thousand more feet of film—Puck.

Bitton—It's awful queer. Tilton—What is? Bitton—Why, a man will pay a doctor good money to be ordered to sleep out of doors. Yet if the landlord ordered him to do it he'd set up an awful how!—Lippincott's Maga-"Shall we call on our congressman in a body or individually?" "I figure it this way: If we call in a body he'll just make us a speech." "Well?" But if we call individually he'll have to take us each out to lunch."—Kansas City Journal.
